Brand Audit Summary for Service for women

Founded in 1941, Service (Servis) is one of Pakistan's oldest and most iconic footwear brands, with a massive retail footprint of over 200 stores nationwide. While it serves the entire family, its women's segment is highly diversified through sub-brands like Ekisha (fashion-forward accessories and shoes), Klara (walking/active shoes), and Ekisha Comfy (medicated and comfort-focused wear). As a major exporter, Service maintains international quality standards while staying deeply connected to local consumers.

A detailed consumer survey and expert audit reveal the following insights into the brand's performance:

Brand Index Analysis

Service's strategic advantage lies in its "Sub-Brand Specialization." By creating distinct identities like Ekisha for fashion and Comfy for health-conscious buyers, they avoid the "one-size-fits-all" trap that often plagues legacy brands. They dominate the middle-income demographic by offering durability that rivals premium brands at a fraction of the cost. Their "Fashion for All" approach ensures that even their most trendy designs remain functional for the varied terrains and lifestyles of both
